

Christopher R. Doner

Christopher Doner is the founder of Kaze Group; a service company comprised of two distinct elements that provide both consulting services and training to private individuals and domestic organizations. Doner served five years as a member of a corporate security team for a Fortune 500 company. He has over 25 years of martial arts training and is a subject matter expert in close-combat and self-protection. He has earned instructor credentials in Robert Bussey's Warrior International (RBWI), Rosenbach Warrior Training Branches and Jensen Knife Combatives. He is an Affiliate Instructor under Michael Janich in Martial Blade Concepts / Counter Blade Concepts (MBC/CBC), one of the most comprehensive and practical personal defense programs available today. He has trained extensively in WWII and modern combatives under the guidance of the late R. Ethan Jensen and has completed several Combative Tactics and Survival Systems (CTSS) courses taught by founder, Devin Crinklaw. In addition to these disciplines, he has trained in Brazilian JiuJutsu, Filipino martial arts, and Togakure Ryu Ninjutsu.

Doner has worked numerous private personal security details and served as a member of a large corporate security force that was entrusted with the security of various VIPs, foreign dignitaries, company executives and employees. He assisted the United States Secret Service as part of a security force in place during one of President George W. Bush's visits to Omaha in 2005. A charter member of the Center for the Advancement of Protective Studies, Doner continues to expand his experience through professional development courses. He has taught close-combat seminars for Creighton University's ROTC program and wilderness survival methods as part of their Jr. Ranger Indoctrination Program (RIP). Currently, he is an active member of a nuclear site protection team trained in various small arms techniques, tactics and procedures.

Doner is an established photographer having had his work published in forty-three countries through Black Belt Magazine, Fighting Stars, and Ninja Magazine, and is a contributing author for In Quartata, a quarterly newsletter published by Jensen, Jensen & Associates. In 1992, he earned a Bachelor of Fine Arts from Ohio Northern University. A permanent exhibit of his artwork was commissioned by the university prior to his graduation.